

What if Story is the Answer?

To our crisis of meaning and belonging.
To our impulse to heal our lives and help others.
To our desire to leave the world better than we found it.

It's one of the oldest and most powerful technologies we have available to us. Unfortunately, because no one has taught us how to use it to learn, to teach, to heal, or to catalyze change or create impact, we unconsciously consume it.

We unwittingly let it shape us and our children, instead of using it intentionally to (re)shape our personal and collective story.

I came to Amanda's event to be inspired, and I left transformed.

Diane Sessions

Founder, Holistic Chamber of Commerce of Murrieta-Temecula

BOOK AMANDA TO ILLUMINATE AND EMPOWER YOUR AUDIENCE

With more than two decades of partnering with people to rewrite personal and collective narratives as a friend, a mother, a teacher, a facilitator, a storyteller, a brand and content strategist, and a messenger guide, Amanda empowers audiences that are ready to stop the st*ry loops and start co-authoring a truer story for themselves, their loved ones, and the world.

Whether it is a thirty-minute keynote or a multi-hour workshop, her unapologetically-honest, story-driven approach awakens individuals to the st*ries that hold them back and equips them with the tools to begin taking more control of the narrative.

INVITE AARON JOHNSON TOO!

As her son, co-author of A Religion of Story, and business partner in Saved By Story Publishing, Aaron Johnson offers a powerful perspective to keynotes and workshops.

Educators, Parents, and other Caregivers will be wowed by his wizard-like wisdom wrapped in wit as he shares how interacting mindfully with Story shaped his worldview and developed the social-emotional skills he's needed to create a meaningful life and step into leadership at such a young age.

KEYNOTES THAT EXPLORE HOW STORY CAN HELP EDUCATORS & PARENTS...

Replace Power Struggles with Fun-filled and Empowering Conversations

Uncover and Rewrite the Personal Narrative that Limits Life and Loved Ones

Cultivate Character and Preserve Freedom in
Our Children and Culture

Amanda radiates empathy and insight from the stage. Her easy confidence invites the audience to not only listen, but also to embrace her message. The result is that we feel informed and enlightened and, perhaps even more importantly, connected with her.

Greg Kuhn

Author of Why Quantum Physicists...

WORKSHOPS THAT USE STORY TO HELP EDUCATORS & PARENTS...

BE THE MENTOR AND ALLY YOU NEEDED

You don't have to be as profound as Dumbledore, as marvelous as Professor McGonagall, as smart as Hermione, or as loyal as Ron to help all of the Harry Potters in your world master their magical selves and face off with the messy humans and malevolent villains they'll encounter.

Learn how to use Story to develop social-emotional skills and resilience in the children around you while you heal all of the tender wounds the Malfoys and Voldemorts inflicted upon you in your childhood.

MULTIPLY MAGIC AND MANAGE MISCHIEF

The wand chooses the wizard, but the parents and educators often unwittingly crush the magic along with the mischief.

Learn how to use Story to help children of all ages (and adults) discover their unique superpowers and learn how to use them appropriately to meet their needs of belonging and feeling known, loved, and valued.

CREATE HOGWARTS HOMES AND CLASSROOMS

We all want to live and work in places where help is always given to those who ask for it.

Learn how to use Story to bring the culture of Hogwarts—the joy of learning how to wield one's magic with careful mentors, the camaraderie and healthy competition among superpower-driven houses, and the thrill of working on meaningful missions to change the world—into your home or classroom.

